Gillian

Is it too late to amend the below request? We have been talking and think it is best to have all IP/DC procedures undertaken by Mr O'Brien for calendar year 2016, it will prevent me coming back and asking for more information.

Please advise is possible?

Wendy

Patient 118

Personal Information redacted by the USI

I write to you regarding this ^{Personal} year old man who had been found to have a cystic mass located in his left anatomical hemi-pelvis on CT scanning in October 2010. The cystic mass measured almost 10cms in its maximum diameter, and was seen to displace the urinary bladder significantly to the right. On surgical exploration in November 2010, the mass was found to be an extra-peritoneal, haemorrhagic cyst which was evacuated. Part of the mass was submitted for histopathological examination. There was no evidence of any malignancy. There has been no reassessment of the possibility of any recurrence since then.

For several years prior to then, ^{Patient 118} had had significant lower urinary tract symptoms predominantly of a storage nature. It may have been assumed that his symptoms are attributable to the presence of the pelvic mass compressing and displacing his urinary bladder. However, in retrospect, evacuation of the cystic mass did not appear to have any significant or lasting benefit with regard to his lower urinary tract symptoms. In fact, in more recent years, those symptoms have progressively increased in severity. Following his recent referral, I met ^{Patient 118} as an outpatient on 25th June 2016 when he reported troublesome urinary symptoms of a mixed nature. He reported urgency and urge incontinence in addition to nocturia, having to rise 2 or 3 times each night to pass urine. However, in addition, he reported voiding symptoms in the form of hesitancy, a reduced urinary flow and a sensation of unsatisfactory voiding following micturition in addition to dysuria. He has derived no benefit from having been prescribed Tamsulosin. I noted that his serum total PSA level was very normal at 0.43 ng/ml in September 2015. In fact, his progressive lower urinary tract symptoms had caused him more recent concern regarding the prospect of he having prostatic carcinoma, and particularly in light of an uncle having recently undergone radical prostatectomy for prostatic carcinoma. On clinical examination, I felt that ^{Patient 118} had a minimally enlarged and clinically benign prostate gland.

I hopefully have been able to reassure ^{Patient 118} that there is no clinical or biochemical reason to suspect the presence of prostatic carcinoma. I have requested a CT scan of his pelvis in order to determine whether there is any evidence of recurrence of the cystic lesion, and I have arranged for him to attend our Department on Friday 8th July 2016 for flexible cystoscopy and urodynamic studies.

Dear

Patient 123

Personal Information redacted by the USI

Thank you for referring back to me this ^{Personal Information} year old gentleman for reassessment of troublesome lower urinary tract symptoms. ^{Patient 123} had been found to have similar symptoms in 2012 when urodynamic studies confirmed that he had bladder outflow obstruction of significance, resulting in chronic urinary retention. He underwent prostatic resection in March 2013. There was no evidence of any prostatic adenocarcinoma on pathological examination of resected tissue. Perhaps somewhat importantly, pathological examination did confirm that he had mild chronic prostatitis in addition to benign prostatic hyperplasia. When he returned for review in April 2013, he was very satisfied with the symptomatic outcome of prostatic resection, and was discharged from review.

When I met ^{Patient 123} as an outpatient on 1st October 2016, he reported very significant symptoms of both a voiding and storage nature. He reported that he has to strain to micturate, and is frequently dissatisfied with bladder emptying on doing so. He reported having urgency of micturition, increased diurnal frequency and severe nocturia. He reported that he has to rise at least 3 times each night to pass urine, but frequently would have to do so hourly. On clinical examination, I found him to have a balanitis for which I prescribed Fucidin hydrocortisone cream to be applied topically. I also found him to have a moderately enlarged and clinically benign prostate gland. I was pleased to note that his biochemical renal function has remained normal as has his serum total PSA at 0.71 ng/ml.

I arranged for ^{Patient 123} to have ultrasound scanning of his urinary tract performed on 26th October 2016. He was reported to have a small echogenic focus within his right kidney, possibly indicative of a small right renal stone. He was also reported to have simple left renal cysts, the largest of which measured 2.5cms in diameter. Apart from these findings, both upper urinary tracts were normal. He was reported to have a mildly enlarged prostate gland with a volume of 33.6mls, and to have adequate bladder voiding with a residual volume of 50mls.

I advised ^{Patient 123} to remain on Tamsulosin as you had prescribed. I added Oxybutynin in the modified release formulation 5mgs to be taken once daily. I advised him to remain on both until he would return to our Department on Friday 4th November 2016 for flexible cystoscopy and urodynamic studies that day. I will advise you of the findings and of any plans for his further management in due course.

Yours sincerely

Dear Personal Information redacted by the USI

Patient 124

Personal Information redacted by the USI

I write to you regarding Patient 124 who presented with persistent left flank pain in 2012. The pain was consistent with ureteric colic but it had not been possible to determine whether small opacities seen in the left hemi-pelvis were indicative of left lower ureteric calculi. As a consequence, Patient 124 was admitted in February 2013 for left ureteroscopy when I found her to have a stenosis of the intramural segment of her ureter, above which the ureteric lumen was dilated, containing urothelial debris. The stenosed intramural segment was effectively dilated by advancement of the ureteroscope.

Dilatation of the intramural segment resulted in complete relief of the left flank pain. She had a recurrence of that same pain in October 2014. There was no evidence of any left ureteric calculi or of left upper tract dilatation on CT scanning of her urinary tract at that time. The pain then was not as severe as it had been in 2012. Urinary microscopy and culture then were both normal, though later she did have a coliform infection in December 2014.

Patient 124 has had recurrence of the same pain since January 2016. She had remained effectively free of pain during 2015. When I reviewed her on 30th January 2016, she reported that the pain radiated from her left loin to her left labium majus. I noted that she had been found to have pyuria and bacteriuria on urinary microscopy on 12th January 2016. However, both were normal when repeated on 30th January 2016. In any case, I had empirically prescribed Trimethoprim 200mgs to be taken twice daily for a period of 3 weeks.

I arranged for Patient 124 to have ultrasound scanning of her urinary tract performed on 5th February 2016. Ultrasound scanning was normal. As the pain persisted, I had intravenous urography performed on 12th February 2016. Whilst this was also normal, there was just a hint that there may have been a mild degree of left ureteric dilatation. By then, her pain was increasingly localised to the left lower abdominal area, and was increasingly accompanied by lower urinary tract symptoms, which included hesitancy of micturition, a reduced urinary flow and post micturitional incontinence in addition to urgency and quite severe nocturia, having to rise 4 or 5 times each night to pass urine. Prior to considering any endoscopic reassessment, I had Patient 124 attend on 16th February 2016 for urodynamic studies when she was found to have a hypersensitivity of her bladder resulting in a compromised cystometric capacity of 190mls. There was no evidence of detrusor muscular overactivity.

I have therefore arranged for Patient 124 to be readmitted on Wednesday 24th February 2016 for left ureteroscopy in addition to hydrostatic dilatation of her bladder.

Yours sincerely

Dear [redacted]

Personal information redacted by USI

Patient 114

Personal Information redacted by the USI

I last wrote to you in April 2016, relating that [redacted] Patient 114 had a right hydrocelectomy and flexible cystoscopy performed on 22nd March 2016. I reviewed him at my clinic at Armagh Community Hospital on 18th April 2016 as [redacted] Patient 114 had been concerned by the persistence of right scrotal swelling following repair of the right hydrocele. By the time that he attended, the swelling had begun to resolve. On clinical examination, I was of the view that the swelling was due to a right epididymitis which was indeed resolving.

With regard to his lower urinary tract symptoms, he reported persistence of terminal dribbling and of variable nocturia, having to rise at least once each night to pass urine, but having to do so up to 5 times. In any case, having found him to have a modest prostatic enlargement on endoscopic assessment of his lower urinary tract in March 2016, I advised him to remain on Tamsulosin indefinitely. With that advice, I discharged him from urological review to your continued good care.

However, [redacted] Patient 114 returned to see me as an outpatient on 25th June 2016, still bothered and worried by the persistence of intermittent pain referred to his left posterolateral chest wall and abdominal wall. I therefore requested a CT scan of his chest, abdomen and pelvis. There was no evidence of any visceral pathology on CT scanning performed on 20th July 2016. However, he was reported to have multilevel disc degenerative change. On reviewing the digitalised images, it is evident that [redacted] Patient 114 does have significant osteoarthritic change in addition to degenerative disc disease throughout his thoracic and lumbar spine. I would therefore have considered it very probable that his pain is emanating from his spine. I note that [redacted] Patient 114 recently considered that the pain referred to his left hip is probably spinal in its origin.

I have arranged for [redacted] Patient 114 to have ultrasound scanning of his lower urinary tract performed on 8th September 2016 in order to reassess bladder voiding as he had been found to have inadequate bladder voiding with a residual volume of 114mls when he did have ultrasound scanning of his urinary tract performed in February 2016. I will arrange a subsequent review appointment for him at my clinic at Craigavon Area Hospital when I will additionally request MRI scanning of his thoracolumbar spine.

Yours sincerely

Dear

Personal Information redacted by USI

Patient 115

Personal Information redacted by the USI

I write to you regarding this ^{Person} year old lady who came to see me as an outpatient on 19th March 2016 following the recent onset of visible haematuria. The only other urinary symptom which she reported was that of nocturia, having to rise once each night to pass urine. I noted that she had had a total abdominal hysterectomy and bilateral salpingo-oophorectomy performed some 30 years ago and I also noted that there was a possibility of her having had a bladder prolapse in the past.

I noted that she has had chronic renal functional impairment for some time, her mean glomerular infiltration rate being 51mls/min during 2014. However, more recently, her glomerular infiltration rate has been found to have decreased to 43mls/min. There had been no evidence of infection on urinary culture during recent months, though she was found to have significant pyuria, haematuria and bacteriuria on urinary microscopy.

In any case, I arranged for ^{Patient 115} to have a CT urogram performed on 20th April 2016 when she was found to have an enhancing, soft tissue mass with all of the characteristic appearances of a bladder tumour, arising from the right posterolateral wall of her bladder, obstructing the right ureteric orifice, resulting in marked dilatation of her right upper urinary tract. Undoubtedly obstruction of her right upper urinary tract has contributed to the recent decline in her biochemical renal function.

Importantly, ^{Patient 115} was also reported to have a 6mm stone in her left kidney. On reviewing the digitalised images, this opacification is indeed either a left renal stone or an area of cortical calcification, particularly as it is closely related to a focal area of cortical scarring. However, if it were a stone, and if ^{Patient 115} did have the misfortune of having that stone migrate into her left ureter, she could suffer catastrophic, anuric renal failure.

The only other lesions or pathology noted on her recent CT scan were those of simple, bilateral renal cysts, gallstones, colonic diverticulosis and degenerative changes affecting her thoracolumbar spine.

I have advised ^{Patient 115} of the findings of CT scanning and I have arranged for her to be admitted to our Department on Wednesday 4th May 2016 for resection of the bladder tumour and possibly right ureteric stenting. I have also arranged for her to attend for pre-operative assessment prior to her admission. You will be advised of the findings and of our plans for her further management in due course.

Personal Information redacted by the USI

I write to you regarding this Personal Information year old gentleman who had been admitted to South West Acute Hospital in Enniskillen in July 2016 in urinary retention which had resulted in bilateral upper urinary tract dilatation, acute deterioration in renal function, urinary infection and coliform bacteraemia. He was managed very successfully with urethral catheterisation, intravenous hydration and antibiotic therapy. By the time of his discharge on 28th July 2016, his biochemical renal function had returned to the normal range.

Patient 122 remained well when I met him as an outpatient on 8th October 2016, apart from discomfort associated with continued indwelling urethral catheterisation. In view of the significant morbidity suffered as a consequence of bladder outlet obstruction, I have arranged for him to be admitted to our Department on Wednesday 2nd November 2016 for prostatic resection that day.

Patient 117

Personal Information redacted by the USI

I write to you regarding this ^{Personal Information redacted by the USI} year old lady whom you referred on 24th March 2016 following a 2 month history of left flank pain which, at times, has been severe. She was reported to have a stone, measuring 1.2cms in diameter, within her left kidney when she had ultrasound scanning performed on 26th February 2016.

When I met ^{Patient 117} as an outpatient on 2nd April 2016, she reported that she continued to have intermittent left flank pain. I did note that she did have microscopic haematuria on urinary microscopy on 9th February 2016. On reviewing the digitalised images of the ultrasound scan of February 2016, I felt that this stone could very well be located within her left renal pelvis rather than within the lower pole calyceals, and as a consequence, maybe causing intermittent renal outlet obstruction resulting in ureteric colic.

I arranged for ^{Patient 117} to have CT scanning of her urinary tract performed on 19th April 2016, and I have arranged for her to be admitted to our Department on Wednesday 27th April 2016 for left ureteroscopy with a view to ensuring that she does not have any additional ureteric calculi, and ideally with a view to achieving laser lithotripsy of the left renal stone. She may require ureteric stenting. In any case, you will be advised of the outcome and of plans for any further management in due course.

Dear Personal Information redacted by USI

Patient 119

Personal Information redacted by the USI

I write to you regarding this Personal Information redacted by the USI year old man whom you referred to Kathy Travers, Continence Nurse Specialist in 2015 for assessment of severe, lower urinary tract symptoms which he had had for several years, and which had not been significantly improved as a consequence of having remained on Tamsulosin for some time. When assessed by Kathy in May 2015, he reported a poor and intermittent urinary flow usually followed by a sensation of inadequate voiding, post micturitional incontinence and severe nocturia, having to rise at least 3 times each night to pass urine and not unfrequently having to rise up to 5 times. She found him to have a poor, maximum flow rate of 6 mls/sec and to have a post micturitional, residual urine volume of 170mls. He had then been recently prescribed Finasteride in addition to Tamsulosin. She initiated clean, intermittent, self catheterisation.

When I met Patient 119 as an outpatient in July 2015, his urinary symptoms had improved since the addition of Finasteride. His flow remained reduced, he still did have a sensation of unsatisfactory voiding following micturition, but the nocturia was less severe, he having to rise once or twice each night to pass urine. On clinical examination I found him to have a moderately enlarged and clinically benign prostate gland, in keeping with very normal serum total PSA levels of 1.1 ng/ml in 2013 and 1.4 ng/ml in 2015. I was also pleased to note that his biochemical renal function was normal in April 2015.

Patient 119 had ultrasound scanning of his urinary tract performed on 20th July 2015 when both upper urinary tracts were found to be normal and when bladder voiding was found to be much improved and normal with a residual volume of 14mls only.

I advised Patient 119 in July 2015 that he would be better served by having his prostate gland resected. As you may be aware from recent correspondence from Kathy Travers, she has found his flow rate to remain very poor, even though bladder voiding has remained satisfactory. I have therefore arranged for Patient 119 to be admitted to our Department on Wednesday 21st September 2016 for endoscopic resection of his prostate gland later that day.

Dear Personal Information redacted by USI

Patient 120

Personal Information redacted by the USI

I write to you regarding this Personal Information redacted by the USI year old gentleman who previously lived in Personal Information redacted by the USI who has recently moved to live in Personal Information redacted by the USI so that he could be near to his daughter who cares for him. He had initially been referred to my colleague, Mr MacLeod, Consultant Urologist at Altnagelvin Area Hospital for assessment of lower urinary tract symptoms, biochemical haematuria and an elevated serum PSA level. However, before investigation could be undertaken, Patient 120 had moved to Personal Information redacted by the USI

When I met him as an outpatient on 21st November 2015, I noted that his serum PSA level had been 2.9 ng/ml in 2011, increasing to 6.8 ng/ml by July 2015, then decreasing to 6.5 ng/ml by September 2015. I also noted that he had had an intracranial aneurysm in 1999.

He reported having a poor urinary flow and was quite severely troubled by urinary incontinence related to urgency. He was already taking Tamsulosin. He had been found to have pyuria, haematuria and bacteriuria on urinary microscopy but urinary culture was negative.

I found him to have a moderately enlarged prostate gland with some minimal induration of the right lateral lobe.

I arranged for Patient 120 to have a CT urogram performed on 30th November 2015 on account of the finding of microscopic haematuria. The dominant finding was that of a large bladder stone measuring 3.5cms in diameter. He was coincidentally found to have a large, incarcerated, hiatus hernia, to have chronic inflammatory changes in the basis of both lungs, to have colonic diverticulosis and more importantly, to have an infra-renal, abdominal aortic aneurysm, measuring 5.2cms in diameter, and which extended into the right common iliac artery.

I also arranged for him to have ultrasound scanning of his urinary tract performed on 2nd December 2015 when he was reported to have small, bilateral renal cysts, and to have minimal enlargement of his prostate gland.

I had prescribed Finasteride, 5mgs daily, when I met Personal Information redacted by USI in November 2015, advising him to remain on Finasteride and Tamsulosin until further review. When I spoke with his daughter more recently, she reported that the addition of Finasteride had not resulted in any improvement in his lower urinary symptoms. This is not at all surprising as the bladder calculus is undoubtedly the dominant cause of his lower urinary tract symptoms. I have therefore arranged for him to be admitted on Wednesday 24th February 2016 for endoscopic bladder lithotripsy. If I do find his prostate gland, though not enlarged, is causative of significant bladder outlet obstruction, I may additionally resect the outlet of his bladder.

Lastly, I have referred [Patient 120] to Mr Weir, Consultant Vascular Surgeon at Craigavon Area Hospital requesting that he arrange an appointment for [Patient 120] to attend his clinic in due course, and with regard to further management of the recently diagnosed, abdominal aortic aneurysm.

Yours sincerely

Patient 116

Personal Information redacted by the USI

I write to you regarding this Personal Information redacted by USI year old gentleman who was referred by your colleague, Dr Personal Information redacted by USI in December 2014, for assessment and management of troublesome urinary symptoms. By the time that I met Patient 116 as an outpatient in May 2015, he had additionally been referred by Dr McMillan, Locum Consultant Dermatologist, for assessment of a balanitis.

When Patient 116 attended on 2nd May 2015, the only symptoms which he reported to be of significance were those of urgency and urge incontinence. As Dr Paisley had indicated, Patient 116 had been taking Dutasteride and Tamsulosin for some time. With regard to the erectile dysfunction, Patient 116 reported that he had been taking Tadalafil 10mgs daily for some time, and with a degree of effectiveness that was just about satisfactory. On clinical examination, I found him to have minimal preputial adhesions and associated balanitis. I felt that he had a moderately enlarged, clinically benign prostate gland. I noted that Victor's biochemical renal function has been normal to date and that his serum PSA had been very normal at 0.26 ng/ml in December 2014.

In any case, I advised him to discontinue taking Dutasteride to see whether its discontinuation with further enhance the efficacy of Tadalafil in the management of his erectile dysfunction. As his dominant urinary symptoms were storage in nature, I prescribed Oxybutynin in the modified release formulation, 10mgs to be taken once daily. I advised him to remain on Oxybutynin and Tamsulosin and Tadalafil until further review. I also arranged for him to have ultrasound scanning of his urinary tract which was performed in September 2015 when he was found to have a simple right renal cyst measuring 2.5cms in diameter, a mildly enlarged prostate gland with a volume of 35mls and very adequate bladder voiding, with a residual volume of 26mls.

I spoke with Patient 116 by telephone recently when he reported that the Oxybutynin had probably contributed significantly to his avoidance of urge incontinence. However, he still does have severe urgency of micturition and to the extent that it severely compromises his quality of life to the extent that he does not allow himself to be far from a toilet at any time. The only other urinary symptom was that of nocturia, having to rise once each night to pass urine. I therefore felt that it would be reasonable to proceed with urodynamic studies. I have therefore arranged for him to attend our Department on Friday 15th April 2016 for urodynamic studies and flexible cystoscopy. I will advise you of the findings and of plans for his further management in due course.

Yours sincerely

Tks – and u will kill me (possibly) what procedure did they have? And then compare to the other pts classified as urgent awaiting the same procedure to see is there a difference – this would be important

I write to you regarding Patient 124 who presented with persistent left flank pain in 2012. The pain was consistent with ureteric colic but it had not been possible to determine whether small opacities seen in the left hemi-pelvis were indicative of left lower ureteric calculi. As a consequence, Patient 124 was admitted in February 2013 for left ureteroscopy when I found her to have a stenosis of the intramural segment of her ureter, above which the ureteric lumen was dilated, containing urothelial debris. The stenosed intramural segment was effectively dilated by advancement of the ureteroscope.

Dilatation of the intramural segment resulted in complete relief of the left flank pain. She had a recurrence of that same pain in October 2014. There was no evidence of any left ureteric calculi or of left upper tract dilatation on CT scanning of her urinary tract at that time. The pain then was not as severe as it had been in 2012. Urinary microscopy and culture then were both normal, though later she did have a coliform infection in December 2014.

Patient 124 has had recurrence of the same pain since January 2016. She had remained effectively free of pain during 2015. When I reviewed her on 30th January 2016, she reported that the pain radiated from her left loin to her left labium majus. I noted that she had been found to have pyuria and bacteriuria on urinary microscopy on 12th January 2016. However, both were normal when repeated on 30th January 2016. In any case, I had empirically prescribed Trimethoprim 200mgs to be taken twice daily for a period of 3 weeks.

I arranged for Patient 124 to have ultrasound scanning of her urinary tract performed on 5th February 2016. Ultrasound scanning was normal. As the pain persisted, I had intravenous urography performed on 12th February 2016. Whilst this was also normal, there was just a hint that there may have been a mild degree of left ureteric dilatation. By then, her pain was increasingly localised to the left lower abdominal area, and was increasingly accompanied by lower urinary tract symptoms, which included hesitancy of micturition, a reduced urinary flow and post micturitional incontinence in addition to urgency and quite severe nocturia, having to rise 4 or 5 times each night to pass urine. Prior to considering any endoscopic reassessment, I had Patient 124 attend on 16th February 2016 for urodynamic studies when she was found to have a hypersensitivity of her bladder resulting in a compromised cystometric capacity of 190mls. There was no evidence of detrusor muscular overactivity.

I have therefore arranged for Patient 124 to be readmitted on Wednesday 24th February 2016 for left ureteroscopy in addition to hydrostatic dilatation of her bladder.

Yours sincerely

Thank you for referring back to me this Personal Information redacted by USI year old gentleman for Personal Information redacted by USI lower urinary tract symptoms. Personal Information redacted by USI had been found to have similar symptoms in 2012 when urodynamic studies confirmed that he had bladder outflow obstruction of significance, resulting in chronic urinary retention. He underwent prostatic resection in March 2013. There was no evidence of any prostatic adenocarcinoma on pathological examination of resected tissue. Perhaps somewhat importantly, pathological examination did confirm that he had mild chronic prostatitis in addition to benign prostatic hyperplasia. When he returned for review in April 2013, he was very satisfied with the symptomatic outcome of prostatic resection, and was discharged from review.

When I met Personal Information redacted by USI as an outpatient on 1st October 2016, he reported very significant symptoms of both a voiding and storage nature. He reported that he has to strain to micturate, and is frequently dissatisfied with bladder emptying on doing so. He reported having urgency of micturition, increased diurnal frequency and severe nocturia. He reported that he has to rise at least 3 times each night to pass urine, but frequently would have to do so hourly. On clinical examination, I found him to have a balanitis for which I prescribed Fucidin hydrocortisone cream to be applied topically. I also found him to have a moderately enlarged and clinically benign prostate gland. I was pleased to note that his biochemical renal function has remained normal as has his serum total PSA at 0.71 ng/ml.

I arranged for Personal Information redacted by USI to have ultrasound scanning of his urinary tract performed on 26th October 2016. He was reported to have a small echogenic focus within his right kidney, possibly indicative of a small right renal stone. He was also reported to have simple left renal cysts, the largest of which measured 2.5cms in diameter. Apart from these findings, both upper urinary tracts were normal. He was reported to have a mildly enlarged prostate gland with a volume of 33.6mls, and to have adequate bladder voiding with a residual volume of 50mls.

I advised Personal Information redacted by USI to remain on Tamsulosin as you had prescribed. I added Oxybutynin in the modified release formulation 5mgs to be taken once daily. I advised him to remain on both until he would return to our Department on Friday 4th November 2016 for flexible cystoscopy and urodynamic studies that day. I will advise you of the findings and of any plans for his further management in due course.

Yours sincerely

Patient 122

Personal Information redacted by the USI

I write to you regarding this ^{Personal Information} year old gentleman who was admitted to South West ^{Personal Information} Hospital in Enniskillen in July 2016 in urinary retention which had resulted in bilateral upper urinary tract dilatation, acute deterioration in renal function, urinary infection and coliform bacteraemia. He was managed very successfully with urethral catheterisation, intravenous hydration and antibiotic therapy. By the time of his discharge on 28th July 2016, his biochemical renal function had returned to the normal range.

^{Personal Information} remained well when I met him as an outpatient on 8th October 2016, apart from discomfort associated with continued indwelling urethral catheterisation. In view of the significant morbidity suffered as a consequence of bladder outlet obstruction, I have arranged for him to be admitted to our Department on Wednesday 2nd November 2016 for prostatic resection that day.

Dear

Patient 121

Personal Information redacted by the USI

I write to you regarding this ^{Personal Information} year old gentleman who has been found to have urinary retention accompanied by hyponatraemia during his admission to South West Acute Hospital in June 2016 due to increasing erythema affecting his left foot. He required catheterisation. He was discharged on 16th June 2016 with an indwelling urethral catheter. He subsequently failed a trial removal of the catheter on 27th June 2016 when he was recatheterised.

When I met ^{Patient 121} as an outpatient on 23rd July 2016, he reported that he found the indwelling urethral catheter to be particularly uncomfortable. I have therefore arranged for him to be admitted to our Department on Tuesday 16th August 2016 for prostatic resection on Wednesday 17th August 2016.

I write to you regarding this [REDACTED] year old gentleman who previously lived in [REDACTED] who has recently moved to live in [REDACTED] so that he could be near to his daughter who cares for him. He had initially been referred to my colleague, Mr MacLeod, Consultant Urologist at Altnagelvin Area Hospital for assessment of lower urinary tract symptoms, biochemical haematuria and an elevated serum PSA level. However, before investigation could be undertaken, [REDACTED] had moved to [REDACTED]

When I met him as an outpatient on 21st November 2015, I noted that his serum PSA level had been 2.9 ng/ml in 2011, increasing to 6.8 ng/ml by July 2015, then decreasing to 6.5 ng/ml by September 2015. I also noted that he had had an intracranial aneurysm in 1999.

He reported having a poor urinary flow and was quite severely troubled by urinary incontinence related to urgency. He was already taking Tamsulosin. He had been found to have pyuria, haematuria and bacteriuria on urinary microscopy but urinary culture was negative.

I found him to have a moderately enlarged prostate gland with some minimal induration of the right lateral lobe.

I arranged for [REDACTED] to have a CT urogram performed on 30th November 2015 on account of the finding of microscopic haematuria. The dominant finding was that of a large bladder stone measuring 3.5cms in diameter. He was coincidentally found to have a large, incarcerated, hiatus hernia, to have chronic inflammatory changes in the basis of both lungs, to have colonic diverticulosis and more importantly, to have an infra-renal, abdominal aortic aneurysm, measuring 5.2cms in diameter, and which extended into the right common iliac artery.

I also arranged for him to have ultrasound scanning of his urinary tract performed on 2nd December 2015 when he was reported to have small, bilateral renal cysts, and to have minimal enlargement of his prostate gland.

I had prescribed Finasteride, 5mgs daily, when I met James in November 2015, advising him to remain on Finasteride and Tamsulosin until further review. When I spoke with his daughter more recently, she reported that the addition of Finasteride had not resulted in any improvement in his lower urinary symptoms. This is not at all surprising as the bladder calculus is undoubtedly the dominant cause of his lower urinary tract symptoms. I have therefore arranged for him to be admitted on Wednesday 24th February 2016 for endoscopic bladder lithotripsy. If I do find his prostate gland, though not enlarged, is causative of significant bladder outlet obstruction, I may additionally resect the outlet of his bladder.

Lastly, I have referred Patient 120 to Mr Weir, Consultant Vascular Surgeon at Craigavon Area Hospital requesting that he arrange an appointment for Patient 120 to attend his clinic in due course, and with regard to further management of the recently diagnosed, abdominal aortic aneurysm.

Yours sincerely

I write to you regarding this ^{Personal Information redacted by the USI} year old man whom you referred to Kathy Travers, Continence Nurse Specialist in 2015 for assessment of severe, lower urinary tract symptoms which he had had for several years, and which had not been significantly improved as a consequence of having remained on Tamsulosin for some time. When assessed by Kathy in May 2015, he reported a poor and intermittent urinary flow usually followed by a sensation of inadequate voiding, post micturitional incontinence and severe nocturia, having to rise at least 3 times each night to pass urine and not unfrequently having to rise up to 5 times. She found him to have a poor, maximum flow rate of 6 mls/sec and to have a post micturitional, residual urine volume of 170mls. He had then been recently prescribed Finasteride in addition to Tamsulosin. She initiated clean, intermittent, self catheterisation.

When I met ^{Patient 119} as an outpatient in July 2015, his urinary symptoms had improved since the addition of Finasteride. His flow remained reduced, he still did have a sensation of unsatisfactory voiding following micturition, but the nocturia was less severe, he having to rise once or twice each night to pass urine. On clinical examination I found him to have a moderately enlarged and clinically benign prostate gland, in keeping with very normal serum total PSA levels of 1.1 ng/ml in 2013 and 1.4 ng/ml in 2015. I was also pleased to note that his biochemical renal function was normal in April 2015.

^{Patient 119} had ultrasound scanning of his urinary tract performed on 20th July 2015 when both upper urinary tracts were found to be normal and when bladder voiding was found to be much improved and normal with a residual volume of 14mls only.

I advised ^{Patient 119} in July 2015 that he would be better served by having his prostate gland resected. As you may be aware from recent correspondence from Kathy Travers, she has found his flow rate to remain very poor, even though bladder voiding has remained satisfactory. I have therefore arranged for ^{Patient 119} to be admitted to our Department on Wednesday 21st September 2016 for endoscopic resection of his prostate gland later that day.

I write to you regarding this [redacted] year old man who had been found to have a cystic mass located in his left anatomical hemi-pelvis on CT scanning in October 2010. The cystic mass measured almost 10cms in its maximum diameter, and was seen to displace the urinary bladder significantly to the right. On surgical exploration in November 2010, the mass was found to be an extra-peritoneal, haemorrhagic cyst which was evacuated. Part of the mass was submitted for histopathological examination. There was no evidence of any malignancy. There has been no reassessment of the possibility of any recurrence since then.

For several years prior to then, [redacted] had had significant lower urinary tract symptoms predominantly of a storage nature. It may have been assumed that his symptoms are attributable to the presence of the pelvic mass compressing and displacing his urinary bladder. However, in retrospect, evacuation of the cystic mass did not appear to have any significant or lasting benefit with regard to his lower urinary tract symptoms. In fact, in more recent years, those symptoms have progressively increased in severity. Following his recent referral, I met [redacted] as an outpatient on 25th June 2016 when he reported troublesome urinary symptoms of a mixed nature. He reported urgency and urge incontinence in addition to nocturia, having to rise 2 or 3 times each night to pass urine. However, in addition, he reported voiding symptoms in the form of hesitancy, a reduced urinary flow and a sensation of unsatisfactory voiding following micturition in addition to dysuria. He has derived no benefit from having been prescribed Tamsulosin. I noted that his serum total PSA level was very normal at 0.43 ng/ml in September 2015. In fact, his progressive lower urinary tract symptoms had caused him more recent concern regarding the prospect of he having prostatic carcinoma, and particularly in light of an uncle having recently undergone radical prostatectomy for prostatic carcinoma. On clinical examination, I felt that [redacted] had a minimally enlarged and clinically benign prostate gland.

I hopefully have been able to reassure [redacted] that there is no clinical or biochemical reason to suspect the presence of prostatic carcinoma. I have requested a CT scan of his pelvis in order to determine whether there is any evidence of recurrence of the cystic lesion, and I have arranged for him to attend our Department on Friday 8th July 2016 for flexible cystoscopy and urodynamic studies.

I write to you regarding this [Redacted] year old lady whom you referred on 24th March 2016 following a 2 month history of left flank pain which, at times, has been severe. She was reported to have a stone, measuring 1.2cms in diameter, within her left kidney when she had ultrasound scanning performed on 26th February 2016.

When I met [Redacted] as an outpatient on 2nd April 2016, she reported that she continued to have intermittent left flank pain. I did note that she did have microscopic haematuria on urinary microscopy on 9th February 2016. On reviewing the digitalised images of the ultrasound scan of February 2016, I felt that this stone could very well be located within her left renal pelvis rather than within the lower pole calyces, and as a consequence, maybe causing intermittent renal outlet obstruction resulting in ureteric colic.

I arranged for [Redacted] to have CT scanning of her urinary tract performed on 19th April 2016, and I have arranged for her to be admitted to our Department on Wednesday 27th April 2016 for left ureteroscopy with a view to ensuring that she does not have any additional ureteric calculi, and ideally with a view to achieving laser lithotripsy of the left renal stone. She may require ureteric stenting. In any case, you will be advised of the outcome and of plans for any further management in due course.

I write to you regarding this ^{Personal Information redacted by USI} year old gentleman who was referred by your colleague, Dr ^{Personal Information redacted by USI} in December 2014, for assessment and management of troublesome urinary symptoms. By the time that I met ^{Patient 116} as an outpatient in May 2015, he had additionally been referred by Dr McMillan, Locum Consultant Dermatologist, for assessment of a balanitis.

When ^{Patient 116} attended on 2nd May 2015, the only symptoms which he reported to be of significance were those of urgency and urge incontinence. As Dr ^{Personal Information redacted by USI} had indicated, ^{Patient 116} had been taking Dutasteride and Tamsulosin for some time. With regard to the erectile dysfunction, Victor reported that he had been taking Tadalafil 10mgs daily for some time, and with a degree of effectiveness that was just about satisfactory. On clinical examination, I found him to have minimal preputial adhesions and associated balanitis. I felt that he had a moderately enlarged, clinically benign prostate gland. I noted that ^{Patient 116} biochemical renal function has been normal to date and that his serum PSA had been very normal at 0.26 ng/ml in December 2014.

In any case, I advised him to discontinue taking Dutasteride to see whether its discontinuation with further enhance the efficacy of Tadalafil in the management of his erectile dysfunction. As his dominant urinary symptoms were storage in nature, I prescribed Oxybutynin in the modified release formulation, 10mgs to be taken once daily. I advised him to remain on Oxybutynin and Tamsulosin and Tadalafil until further review. I also arranged for him to have ultrasound scanning of his urinary tract which was performed in September 2015 when he was found to have a simple right renal cyst measuring 2.5cms in diameter, a mildly enlarged prostate gland with a volume of 35mls and very adequate bladder voiding, with a residual volume of 26mls.

I spoke with ^{Patient 116} by telephone recently when he reported that the Oxybutynin had probably contributed significantly to his avoidance of urge incontinence. However, he still does have severe urgency of micturition and to the extent that it severely compromises his quality of life to the extent that he does not allow himself to be far from a toilet at any time. The only other urinary symptom was that of nocturia, having to rise once each night to pass urine. I therefore felt that it would be reasonable to proceed with urodynamic studies. I have therefore arranged for him to attend our Department on Friday 15th April 2016 for urodynamic studies and flexible cystoscopy. I will advise you of the findings and of plans for his further management in due course.

Yours sincerely

I write to you regarding this [redacted] year old lady who came to see me as an outpatient on 19th March 2016 following the recent onset of visible haematuria. The only other urinary symptom which she reported was that of nocturia, having to rise once each night to pass urine. I noted that she had had a total abdominal hysterectomy and bilateral salpingo-oophorectomy performed some 30 years ago and I also noted that there was a possibility of her having had a bladder prolapse in the past.

I noted that she has had chronic renal functional impairment for some time, her mean glomerular infiltration rate being 51mls/min during 2014. However, more recently, her glomerular infiltration rate has been found to have decreased to 43mls/min. There had been no evidence of infection on urinary culture during recent months, though she was found to have significant pyuria, haematuria and bacteriuria on urinary microscopy.

In any case, I arranged for [redacted] to have a CT urogram performed on 20th April 2016 when she was found to have an enhancing, soft tissue mass with all of the characteristic appearances of a bladder tumour, arising from the right posterolateral wall of her bladder, obstructing the right ureteric orifice, resulting in marked dilatation of her right upper urinary tract. Undoubtedly obstruction of her right upper urinary tract has contributed to the recent decline in her biochemical renal function.

Importantly, [redacted] was also reported to have a 6mm stone in her left kidney. On reviewing the digitalised images, this opacification is indeed either a left renal stone or an area of cortical calcification, particularly as it is closely related to a focal area of cortical scarring. However, if it were a stone, and if [redacted] did have the misfortune of having that stone migrate into her left ureter, she could suffer catastrophic, anuric renal failure.

The only other lesions or pathology noted on her recent CT scan were those of simple, bilateral renal cysts, gallstones, colonic diverticulosis and degenerative changes affecting her thoracolumbar spine.

I have advised [redacted] of the findings of CT scanning and I have arranged for her to be admitted to our Department on Wednesday 4th May 2016 for resection of the bladder tumour and possibly right ureteric stenting. I have also arranged for her to attend for pre-operative assessment prior to her admission. You will be advised of the findings and of our plans for her further management in due course.

I write to you regarding this ^{Personal Information redacted} year old gentleman recently referred by your colleague, Dr McCrory for assessment and management of a large right scrotal swelling. I noted that Mr Conlon had been assessed by Mr McKnight, Consultant Urological Surgeon at the Ulster Hospital Dundonald in October 2015 when ultrasound scanning indicated that he had a large, septated, right hydrocele in addition to having probable right epididymal cysts. Mr McKnight advised that surgical intervention was not urgently indicated at that time.

I also note that ^{Patient 114} had been attending the Department of Urology as an outpatient at Lagan Valley Hospital, because of lower urinary tract symptoms. When he was reviewed in January 2016, he reported that he did not feel that he was able to empty his bladder completely on passing urine, that he had increased diurnal frequency of micturition in addition to having to rise once or twice each night to pass urine. I note that ^{Patient 114} did not have any prostatic enlargement on ultrasound scanning in April 2012 when his prostatic volume was 20mls only and when he had virtually complete bladder voiding on micturition. However, when ultrasound scanning of his urinary tract was repeated on 29th February 2016, his post micturitional, residual urine volume was 114mls.

Thirdly, ^{Patient 114} has been complaining of some left loin pain for some time. When he had ultrasound scanning of his urinary tract performed in 2012, he was reported to have a left renal cyst measuring 1cm in diameter. However, there was no left renal cyst evident on ultrasound scanning in February 2016 when, in fact, he was reported to have a right renal cyst measuring 1.1cm in diameter.

In any case, his more pressing issue is the large right hemiscrotal swelling. I have arranged for him to be admitted to the Day Surgical Unit at Craigavon Area Hospital on Tuesday 22nd March 2016 for right hydrocelectomy and right epididymal cystectomy. I will also avail of the opportunity of performing flexible cystoscopy in order to assess his lower urinary tract endoscopically.

Dear Martina

The meeting with Mr O'Brien has just concluded. There are a number of operational issues as a consequence:

1. Have discussed a script should anyone ask with Lynne Hailey and we have agreed the following: "Mr O'Brien remains absent from work and this will be kept under review. Staff will be updated when this situation changes"
2. Mr O'Brien is aware that an OH referral is now being made.
3. Mr O'Brien will be delivering charts to your office at 11am on Tuesday. Should you need space, you could use the AMD's office – I will make sure it is clear today.

Ronan – Mr O'Brien was informed that he was being "Immediately excluded" to allow the Trust time to scope the scale of the issues which have been identified in terms of:

- Notes at home
- Untriaged referrals
- Undictated clinics
- Conclusion of SAI
- Any other areas which are identified

As part of your plan, there will need to be a clinical note review of all charts/referral letters returned by Mr O'Brien to assess whether patients have a clinical management plan or require a clinical review with a Urologist. The follow-up meeting with Mr O'Brien will take place in four weeks, so potentially Friday 27th January to discuss the outcome of this scoping exercise, of which the outcome of the clinical note review will be a critical factor. Dr Wright is willing to approve any additional costs incurred for this review to be completed within this timescale.

Happy to discuss if you require any further clarity.

Kind regards

Colin & Martina & I met with the urology consultants this am, at which we shared with them all the events that had been taking place and the decisions that had been taken.

From this meeting we need to answer a few questions

- 1- What are the ToR for the investigation/review
- 2- How long would you expect the review to last?
- 3- What was Mr O'Brien advised re the undictated outpatient clinics i.e. can he dictate or has he to cease having anything to do with the outstanding backlog
- 4- What is the Trust's position on Mr O'Brien undertaking private work and in particular using Trust secretarial staff to type private patient work whilst off?
- 5- What is the Trust position in regard to notes being transported in staff's private car to and from SWAH?
Clinics run twice mthly (2nd & 4th wks)

Mr O'Brien contacted Martina and advised that the notes which were not on Trust's premises have been left in his office. Martina has checked and this is confirmed, these notes will be transferred to the med exe office asap to be tracked to Martina on PAS and then a refreshed report will be ran to see if there are any more outstanding.

The Team are going to think/discuss and come back to Colin & I on thurs with how they proposed to complete the actions required associated with review.

Dear Ronan and Esther

Following discussion with Richard, responses to your queries are below, coloured for ease of reference:

- 1- What are the ToR for the investigation/review
 In line with the MHPS Framework, the TOR will be determined following the 4 week scoping exercise during which the scale of the potential problems are being considered by the Investigating Team
- 2- How long would you expect the review to last?
 As indicated below, the scoping exercise is expected to be completed by 27th January. Once the formal investigation is commenced, it also expected to complete within 4 weeks, but this is dependent upon the complexity of the investigation and could well be extended
- 3- What was Mr O'Brien advised re the undictated outpatient clinics i.e. can he dictate or has he to cease having anything to do with the outstanding backlog
 As Mr O'Brien is excluded from work, he is unable to participate in the backlog. As indicated in the action notes from the Oversight Committee on 22nd December, it is expected that a plan for how this backlog will be managed will be presented to the Oversight Committee on 10th January.
- 4- What is the Trust's position on Mr O'Brien undertaking private work and in particular using Trust secretarial staff to type private patient work whilst off?
 In line with the MHPS Framework, Mr O'Brien is not completely at liberty to undertake private practice outside the Southern Trust. As his Responsible Officer, Dr Wright advised Mr O'Brien not to undertake private work during the period of this investigation, and to inform any private providers that he was currently excluded from his main employment. The exception to this would be if Mr O'Brien felt there were any patient safety issues; if this was the case, Mr O'Brien was advised that he should arrange transfer of care to a colleague.
 However, I would agree with Esthers comments below in relation to secretarial issues.
- 5- What is the Trust position in regard to notes being transported in staff's private car to and from SWAH?
 Clinics run twice mthly (2nd & 4th wks)

This should be undertaken in line with Trust procedures; possibly these may need to be reviewed in light of the issues identified

Kind regards

Simon

Ronan,
I'm sure Simon will be able to answer the queries below but I just wanted to comment on point 4. Mr O'Brien is at liberty to do what he wants off ST premises but he cannot use the services of the Trust in the carrying out of his own private work. Not unless the secretarial staff do the work outside core hours and don't use any facilities of the Trust.
Thanks

Esther.

Colin & Martina & I met with the urology consultants this am, at which we shared with them all the events that had been taking place and the decisions that had been taken.

From this meeting we need to answer a few questions

- 1- What are the ToR for the investigation/review

- 2- How long would you expect the review to last?
- 3- What was Mr O'Brien advised re the undictated outpatient clinics i.e. can he dictate or has he to cease having anything to do with the outstanding backlog
- 4- What is the Trust's position on Mr O'Brien undertaking private work and in particular using Trust secretarial staff to type private patient work whilst off?
- 5- What is the Trust position in regard to notes being transported in staff's private car to and from SWAH? Clinics run twice mthly (2nd & 4th wks)

Mr O'Brien contacted Martina and advised that the notes which were not on Trust's premises have been left in his office. Martina has checked and this is confirmed, these notes will be transferred to the med exe office asap to be tracked to Martina on PAS and then a refreshed report will be ran to see if there are any more outstanding.

The Team are going to think/discuss and come back to Colin & I on thurs with how they proposed to complete the actions required associated with review.

Dear Martina

The meeting with Mr O'Brien has just concluded. There are a number of operational issues as a consequence:

1. Have discussed a script should anyone ask with Lynne Hailey and we have agreed the following: "Mr O'Brien remains absent from work and this will be kept under review. Staff will be updated when this situation changes"
2. Mr O'Brien is aware that an OH referral is now being made.
3. Mr O'Brien will be delivering charts to your office at 11am on Tuesday. Should you need space, you could use the AMD's office – I will make sure it is clear today.

Ronan – Mr O'Brien was informed that he was being "Immediately excluded" to allow the Trust time to scope the scale of the issues which have been identified in terms of:

- Notes at home
- Untriaged referrals
- Undictated clinics
- Conclusion of SAI
- Any other areas which are identified

As part of your plan, there will need to be a clinical note review of all charts/referral letters returned by Mr O'Brien to assess whether patients have a clinical management plan or require a clinical review with a Urologist. The follow-up meeting with Mr O'Brien will take place in four weeks, so potentially Friday 27th January to discuss the outcome of this scoping exercise, of which the outcome of the clinical note review will be a critical factor. Dr Wright is willing to approve any additional costs incurred for this review to be completed within this timescale.

Happy to discuss if you require any further clarity.

Kind regards

Simon

After meeting with the Urology Consultants about the scoping exercise, Mr Young has advised us that Mr O'Brien told him that he has, at home, outcome sheets for all the patients that there was no dictation for. The Team feel that before they can decide what action is needed and what the timescale are for this work that these outcome sheets need to be made available to us from Mr O'Brien.

Also regarding the untriaged letters there is an issue in obtaining all of these letters due to them either being sent direct to Mr O'Brien or not coming through the CCG which means the Trust will have no access to a paper copy (I will not know the volume of these until I request all of the letters from the booking centre), but I will have to go back to the GP's to request another copy for those that fall into the above categories.

I appropriate I was going to email Mr O'Brien to his home email address and request that both of these sets of paperwork is returned to me as I cannot finalise my action plan until I know the detail on these records.

Can you advise is this appropriate for me to do?

Dear Martina

The communication with Mr O'Brien was very clear; that all patient records had to be brought into the Southern Trust.

Now that we are aware that there remain documents at his house, it is completely appropriate that arrangements are made for him to be contacted by e-mail to organise these to be brought in as well.

Kind regards

MR A O'BRIEN, CONSULTANT UROLOGIST
RETURN TO WORK PLAN / MONITORING ARRANGEMENTS

Following a decision by case conference on 26 January 2017 to lift an immediate exclusion which was in place from 30 December 2017, this action plan for Mr O'Brien's return to work will be in place pending conclusion of the formal investigation process under Maintaining High Professional Standards Framework.

The decision of the members of the case conference is for Mr O'Brien to return to his full job role as set out within his agreed job plan to include safeguards and monitoring around the 4 main issues of concerns under investigation.

- that, from June 2015, 783 GP referrals had not been triaged in line with the agreed / known process for such referrals.

Dr O'Brien, when Urologist of the week (once every 6 weeks), must action and triage all referrals for which he is responsible, in line with the Elective Access Performance Targets (EAPT) i.e. all referrals must be completed within the set timescales and completed at the end of the week + 2 days. There must be nothing outstanding 2 days following the end of his week as Urologist of the week.

Red Flag referrals must be completed daily.

All referrals received will be monitored by the Central Booking Centre in line with the EAPT. A report will be shared with the Assistant Director of Acute Services, Anaesthetics and Surgery at the end of each period to ensure all targets have been met.

Any deviation from compliance with the targets will be referred to the MHPS Case Manager immediately.

CONCERN 2

- That, 307 sets of patient notes were returned by Mr O'Brien from his home, 88 sets of notes located within Mr O'Brien's office, 13 sets of notes, tracked to Mr O'Brien, are still missing.

Mr O'Brien is not permitted to remove patient notes off Trust premises.

Notes tracked out to Mr O'Brien must be tracked out to him for the shortest period possible for the management of a patient.

Notes must not be stored in Mr O'Brien's office.

- that 668 patients have no outcomes formally dictated from Mr O'Briens outpatient clinics over a period of at least 18 months.

All clinics must be managed using NIECR. Within 1 week of each clinic, a report will be provided to the Assistant Director of Acute Services, Anaesthetics and Surgery to ensure all outcomes are dictated.

An outcome / plan / record of each clinic attendance must be recorded for individual patient.

CONCERN 4

- A review of Mr O'Brien's TURP patients identified 9 patients who had been seen privately as outpatients, then had their procedure within the NHS. The waiting times for these patients are significantly less than for other patients.

Mr O'Brien must adhere to all aspects of the Trust's Policy on ??????, and in particular to ??????.

MR A O'BRIEN, CONSULTANT UROLOGIST
RETURN TO WORK PLAN / MONITORING ARRANGEMENTS

Following a decision by case conference on 26 January 2017 to lift an immediate exclusion which was in place from 30 December 2017, this action plan for Mr O'Brien's return to work will be in place pending conclusion of the formal investigation process under Maintaining High Professional Standards Framework.

The decision of the members of the case conference is for Mr O'Brien to return as a Consultant Urologist to his full job role and to include safeguards and monitoring around the 4 main issues of concerns under investigation.

Mr O'Brien's return to work is based on:

- Strict compliance with Trust procedures and policies in relation to:
 - Triaging of referrals
 - Contemporaneous note keeping
 - Storage of medical records
 - Private practice
- Agreement to read and comply with GMCs "Good Medical Practice" (April 2013)
- Agreement to an urgent job plan review
- Agreement to comply with any monitoring mechanisms put in place to assess his administrative processes

- That, from June 2015, 783 GP referrals had not been triaged in line with the agreed / known process for such referrals.

Mr O'Brien, when Urologist of the week (once every 6 weeks), must action and triage all referrals for which he is responsible, this will include letters received via the booking centre and any letters that have been addressed to Mr O'Brien and delivered to his office – for these letters the secretary will have to record receipt of these on PAS and then these letters must all be triaged. The oncall week commences on a Thursday AM for seven days, therefore triage of all referrals must be completed by 4pm on the Friday after Mr O'Brien's Consultant of the Week ends.

Red Flag referrals must be completed daily.

All referrals received by Mr O'Brien will be monitored by the Central Booking Centre in line with the above timescales. A report will be shared with the Assistant Director of Acute Services, Anaesthetics and Surgery at the end of each period to ensure all targets have been met.

Any deviation from compliance with the targets will be referred to the MHPS Case Manager immediately.

CONCERN 2

- That, 307 sets of patient notes were returned by Mr O'Brien from his home, 88 sets of notes located within Mr O'Brien's office, 13 sets of notes, tracked to Mr O'Brien, are still missing.

Mr O'Brien is not permitted to remove patient notes off Trust premises.

Notes tracked out to Mr O'Brien must be tracked out to him for the shortest period possible for the management of a patient.

Notes must not be stored in Mr O'Brien's office. (just checking on this as all other consultants do have notes in their offices?)

- That 668 patients have no outcomes formally dictated from Mr O'Brien's outpatient clinics over a period of at least 18 months.

All clinics must be dictated at the end of each clinic/theatre session via digital dictation. This is already set up in the Thorndale Unit and will be installed on the computer in Mr O'Brien's office and on his Trust laptop and training is being organised for Mr O'Brien on this. This dictation must be done at the end of every clinic and a report via digital dictation will be provided on a weekly basis to the Assistant Director of Acute Services, Anaesthetics and Surgery to ensure all outcomes are dictated.

An outcome / plan / record of each clinic attendance must be recorded for each individual patient and this should include a letter for any patient that did not attend as there must be a record of this back to the GP.

- A review of Mr O'Brien's TURP patients identified 9 patients who had been seen privately as outpatients, then had their procedure within the NHS. The waiting times for these patients are significantly less than for other patients.

Mr O'Brien must adhere to all aspects of the Trust Private Practice Policy - 'A Guide to Paying Patients' and in particular to 'Referral of Private Patients to NHS Lists i.e. any patient changing their status after having been provided with private services should not be treated on a different basis to other NHS patients as a result of having previously held private status: patients referred for an NHS service following a private consultation or private treatment should join any NHS waiting list at the same point as if the consultation or treatment were an NHS service. Their priority on the waiting list should be determined by the same criteria applied to other NHS patients;

Subject: update on Chart review

Ronan

To date Mr Young/Mr Glackin and myself have looked through 161 case notes.

The majority of these patients do not have letters dictated for their attendance at clinic any that do (10 charts) the letters were done in February 2017 retrospectively.
 For any of those patients requiring further management as stated in the handwritten notes , i.e. added to a waiting list, (Inpatient, day patient or Review OP) this hadn't been done.

There were 3 patients whom the consultants have concerns on and I have arranged them to attend clinic over the next 2 weeks and I will keep you apprised of their outcomes.

Other comments made by the consultant were:

1. Patient seen by 6 times at clinic and notes written in the patients chart but no dictated letter
2. Patient seen initially as a private patient and there is a letter in chart for private visit but none for NHS visit
3. Patient seen x 14 times at clinics (so well looked after) but no letters so how does the GP know what is going on?
4. Patient seen at clinic on 19/9/16 letter dictated retrospectively on 28/02/17.
5. According to PAS the patient attended the clinic but according to handwritten notes they DNA and Mr O'Brien had asked that they be sent for again
6. Patient seen on 11/04/16 but letter was dictated on 22/02/17.

All of the 161 patients need PAS work done to them (e.g. add to waiting lists/tests ordered discharged from clinic etc..) so can we discuss how best to manage this please?

There are still a number of charts to be gone through and I will try and take some time next week to go through some more and update you after I have done this.

Happy to discuss further.

Concern 2

Apart from the 13 already identified missing notes Mr O'Brien has 68 further charts in his office which are all recent and are awaiting for results. There are no other missing charts and no evidence of charts being taken off-site.

Concern 3

I can confirm that all clinics that Mr O'Brien has done since his return to work have been dictated on by digital dictation and all patients have a plan and outcome included.

Concern 4

Mr O'Brien has had theatre lists on 5th and 26th April and on 3rd May
